DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 18-36 and 78-96 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding base claims 18 and 78, the phrase 'or in any other different mutual arrangement' renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by this language akin to "or the like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d). Dependent claims variously inherit the defects.

Double Patenting

3. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg.

Art Unit:

Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

4. Applicant is advised that should claims 18-36 be found allowable, new claims 78-96 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k). Note that since the body of claim 78 pertains to needle-guide device function and the body of claim 18 comprises a structure combination used for the preamble purposes as a needle-guide device, the latter claim set cannot be infringed without infringing the former and therefore the double-patenting situation i.e. duplicate claiming for double-patenting purposes exists.

5. Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1- 17 and 37-77 are allowed.

Art Unit:

Since a new ground of rejection has been introduced not necessitated by the amended claims, this action is not made final however the case should be prepared for final action.
